About Medical Fee Dispute Resolution

The Division of Workers' Compensation's (DWC) Medical Fee Dispute Resolution (MFDR) section provides medical fee dispute resolution services primarily to health care providers. In resolving disputes over the amount of payment due for services determined to be medically necessary and appropriate for treatment of a compensable injury, the role of MFDR is to adjudicate the payment given the relevant statutory provisions and commissioner rules.

Texas Labor Code, Section 413.031, established medical fee dispute resolution. 28 Texas Administrative Code §133.305 titled MDR-General and 28 Texas Administrative Code §133.307 titled MDR of Medical Fee Disputes inform system participants of their rights and set out the procedures for medical fee dispute resolution.

The Executive Deputy Commissioner for Health Care Management oversees the Medical Fee Dispute Resolution program. Martha Luevano, Director for MFDR, may be reached at Martha.Luevano@tdi.texas.gov
